

Verb To Be: Present, Past, & Future (Beginner)

“To Be” is a verb which shows a state of existence.
 “To Be” can be used to describe the Present, Past, and Future time.

Past Tense	Present Tense	Future Tense
I was	I am	I will be
He / She / It was	He / She / It is	He / She / It will be
You / We / They were	You / We / They are	You / We / They will be
I was a student in 1990.	I am a student.	I will be a student next year.
She was a student in 1990.	She is a student.	She will be a student next year.
You were a student in 1990.	You are a student.	You will be a student next year.
They were students in 1990.	They are students.	They will be students next year.